Will Not Recognize Any Right Of Egypt To Make an Appeal

GENEVA, December 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Great Britain has informed the League of Nations that the British government will not recognize that any signature by Egypt of the peace protocol will give Egypt the right to appeal to the League of Nations on matters connected with the Anglo-Egyptian dispute.

The British note to the league says Great Britain will not accept any interference, whether it be by Egypt, the League of Nations, or any judicial government on matters touching the Sudan.

Traction Crashes Into Turpentine Truck; Five Dead

DETROIT, MICH., December 4.—(By the United Press)—A coroner's jury was to start investigation here today to determine cause of the collision of a Detroit-Toledo Interurban of the D. U. T. Lines and a motor truck here last night that resulted in the death of five persons and injury to ten others.

FIVE DEAD

Daniel B. Callahan, 34, Toledo.
Mrs. Garnet Kiserberth, Toledo.
Mrs. Mary O'Brien, 67; Mary O'Brien, 5, grand-daughter of Mrs. O'Brien, and Mrs. Dorey Gettins, 24, all of Toledo.

These last three are supposed to have been mother, daughter and grand-daughter, and to have been residents of Toledo.

Among the injured were:
Mr. and Mrs. Carmen M. Ufer, Toledo.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pierce, Toledo.
Arlington J. Byers, conductor, Toledo.

Frank Oulp, Norwalk, O.
Harry W. Wilkes, Huron, O.
C. C. Gall, Huron, O.
Charles Sprinkel, Huron, O.
Louis Sprinkel, Huron, O.
Henry Hahn, Jr., Huron, O.

The interurban train on the Detroit, Monroe and Toledo Railway left Detroit at 5:20 p. m. It was five minutes late and was traveling at high speed to make up time. It was due in Toledo at 7:20 p. m.

The truck owned by the Liberty Highway Company of Toledo, with a trailer, south bound out of Detroit, crossed the railway tracks in the center of Wyandotte immediately ahead of the electric train. The leading car of the train struck the trailer which was still on the tracks. On the trailer were 25 drums, each containing 50 gallons of turpentine. The car was moving at about 25 miles an hour and crashed into the trailer. Both cars were plunged into darkness. The force of the collision broke the heavy drums and the front of the train was drenched with turpentine. Women and children screamed.

The passengers in the rear car received only minor bruises. The men in the forward car hastened to the assistance of the women and children. At that instant, a moment after the collision, the turpentine caught fire, engulfing the forward car in flames and drenching the entire train.

Women who had escaped from the burning car and those who had come from the rear car became hysterical. Men tried to rescue the women who were trapped in the forward car, but were driven back by the flames and the stifling smoke.

The train was operated by Motorist Daniel B. Callahan, Toledo. As the train stopped he ran through the burning car for the passengers to get out. Unable to escape, he was engulfed in flames and was killed by death.

Coolidge Makes Appeal For Co-operation With Other Nations

(By DALE VAN EVERY)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, December 4.—(By the United Press)—Without referring by name to the League of Nations, the world court, or any other form of international machinery President Coolidge today made a straightway appeal for sympathetic co-operation with other nations as the one firm foundation for this country's well being.

Speaking at a luncheon of the Chicago Commercial Club, the president asserted that just as the common prosperity of agriculture and industry in this country depended on their mutual good relations so did the continued prosperity of the United States depend on co-operation with other nations.

"We cannot expect, in the long course of events to maintain our country on a permanent level of general well being far above that of other people," said Mr. Coolidge.

"I am profoundly impressed with the fact that the structure of modern society is essentially a unity, destined to stand or fall as such.

"At the last, those of us who are partners in the supreme service of building and bettering our civilization must go up or go down, must succeed or fall together, in our common enterprise.

Need Co-operation In Peace

"We can no more assure permanent and stable peace, without co-operation among nations, than we could assure victory in war without allies among them."

President Coolidge was careful to avoid committing his advocacy of international co-operation to any specific international legal machinery, either existent or contemplated.

"I would not have you mistake my meaning," he pointed out. "I should never advocate the sacrifice of any part of our prosperity because of the vague hope that in following indiscriminate impulses of kindness we might help some who are in worse condition than ourselves.

"Nor would I sacrifice our independence and freedom of action. I only believe that we are strong enough, or (Continued on Page 10)

Years Of Prosperous And Healthy Business Conditions Ahead For U.S., Says Mellon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(A. P.)—Years of "prosperous and healthy conditions such as succeeded the election of 1900" were forecast for the United States by Secretary Mellon in the annual report of the Treasury sent to congress today.

The Secretary's views are based, he said, on the reputation of "various theories inconsistent with economic laws" and the endorsement of a program of constructive handling of government affairs given in the last election. He counseled the nation, however, to approach its problems with intelligence that the progress made and the groundwork laid in the last four years may not come to naught.

"The United States, he asserted, was the first world power to come through the post-war transition stage successfully and the first to be able to present 'reasonable assurance' that 'true progress' will continue within its borders. Mr. Mellon urged perpetuation of the program adopted by 'the great majority of our people in the last election' which he interpreted as one of 'hard work, economy and sound policies.'

Per Capita Tax Cut

In general economic conditions as well as in the domain of federal fiscal operations, Mr. Mellon recounted how complete the transition had been. He said that in the last four years the per capita tax on citizens of the United States had been cut from $54 to $27, or exactly one-half; public expenditures which in 1920 exceeded $6,500,000,000 were only $3,500,000,000 in the fiscal year which ended last July 1, and the "complete disorganization" of the economy (Continued on Page 10)

President Coolidge's Place In American History May Be Made On One Achievement---That of Economy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1924 by Times Publishing Company.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—President Coolidge's place in American history will be made on at least one achievement if he gets the cooperation of congress, namely economy. He may yet be known as the most economical president the country has ever had.

The word "economy" occurs again and again in his annual message to congress. He emphasizes it, reiterates it and drives it home as the transcendent issue of the hour. Tax reduction, prosperity and the general welfare all depend upon it.

Briefly, the surplus indicated for the fiscal year beginning July 1st next is about $67,000,000. Mr. Coolidge thinks this is too narrow a margin above receipts to undertake tax reduction but if congress doesn't spend any more and revenues increase due to better business conditions a program of tax reduction will be presented. He carefully refrains from saying when and leaves the door open to the summering of a special session before next December if that should be required.

The president draws a distinction between tax "reduction" and tax "reform" and says that congress can go ahead with all of the latter that it likes when the operations of the present law are better known. By this he means a revision of surtaxes downward and the removal of inequities in the tax system itself.

Seeks Relief For Agriculture

Pointing out that "our domestic problems are for the most part economic," there is a constant reference to dollars and cents through practically all the recommendations made by the president. He says "permanently on a prosperous basis" and hopes the new agricultural commission will report relief (Continued on Page 10)

CROWDED COMMUTER TRAINS CRASH IN CALIFORNIA; MANY INJURED TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

OAKLAND, CALIF., December 4.—(By the United Press)—Two commuter trains, loaded with people enroute to work in San Francisco, were wrecked here today with a loss of life as yet undetermined but estimated at from ten to twenty-five.

Thirty to forty others were reported seriously injured. Intense confusion followed the wreck, which occurred on the Key Route Interurban system's "Mole" west of Fourth and Hollis streets, Oakland.

"Check of the dead accounted for nine known to have lost their lives. Three of these were dead at the Oakland Emergency Hospital, one at the Berkeley Hospital; one at a branch Emergency Hospital in Oakland; one at a branch Emergency Hospital in Berkeley; and three at the Merritt Hospital in Oakland.

Train company employees believed others are dead or will die from their injuries.

"I was a passenger aboard the Twelfth street train for the Key route," E. W. Ewing, of the Western Electric Company, told the United Press. "Our train was on the Key route, Mole, just about to run out on the trestle work section of the pier. A train ahead of us was running more slowly and I felt the brakes applied to our train to prevent us running too close to it."

A local on the San Francisco-Sacramento Short Line was running behind us.

"As we slowed down, the Short Line train charging upon our train, apparently its brakes failed to function, or the wheels did not hold on the west track."

"The front platform of the Short Line train hit the rear of our train above the floor level and it seemed to sweep right through the car, killing and injuring as it went."

"It was a terrible scene. Men leaped from the cars; women screamed and there was general confusion."

Tremendous Cheers Greet President In Chicago Loop

CHICAGO, December 4.—(By the United Press)—Overcast skies, a spattering of rain and snow, a gray fog in the air—typical loop weather for this time of the year—greeted President and Mrs. Coolidge when they arrived here at 8:55 a. m. today to attend the International Livestock Exposition. More than 100 uniformed policemen formed an avenue for the presidential party. While many plain clothes men mingled with the crowd.

Hala Holden, president of the Burlington Railroad, and president of the Commercial Club before which Mr. Coolidge makes a luncheon address, headed the reception committee of business men and civic leaders. After brief greetings the party drove to the Drake Hotel.

Tremendous cheers boomed out at the appearance of Mr. Coolidge. It was his first appearance in the middle west since he took office and it presented an opportunity for thousands of voters who helped give him an overwhelming majority in Illinois to voice their feelings.

The president's list of callers, included Vice President-elect Davis, former Governor Lowden, of Illinois; William Wrigley, Jr., chewing gum king; Paul Upham, Republican National Committeeman from Illinois.

The trip from Washington to Chicago was uneventful. Coolidge's party traveled on an ordinary Pullman, the president deciding to eliminate the expense entailed in the use of a private car.

President and Mrs. Coolidge dined informally in the regular dining room. At breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge had a small table to themselves. Across the aisle from them sat Senator-elect McMeister, ex of South Dakota. The president and McMeister had never met. McMeister sent his card to the president and they chatted as they dined.

Comparatively few of the people in the car were aware of their distinguished company. When the president and Mrs. Coolidge arose, none in the car paid their respect by rising.

BUREAU, FRIEND OF THE HOMELESS, NOW FINDS ITSELF HOMELESS DUE TO ACTION OF COUNCIL; ORDERED TO MOVE

Dispossessed of their comfortable quarters in the city property (the old Newman homestead) on Second street just west of Chillicothe street by reason of resolution unanimously passed by the city council last night, the Bureau of Community Service today found itself in the same position of many it cares for—homeless.

A copy of the resolution was presented to Miss Branch Lowe, director of the Bureau this morning by City Auditor Earl Chandler. She told a Times man this morning that she had no intention that council was even considering a move of this character and its action almost swept her off her feet.

"We fixed the place up ourselves, even bought the paint to paint the floor and myself, Miss Jean Clare and Miss Dora Pettit did the work and now we have to move. It looks to me like there is something wrong with the place," Miss Lowe said Thursday.

"Of course we have no place to move as we had no idea that council was considering such a move, especially after we worked day and night to put our quarters into habitable condition and dug down into our own purses to buy the paint and other material used."

Mr. Bryan talks.

Asked why council had taken such action, R. G. Bryan, chairman of the public property committee today said, "The move was compulsory on our part as the engineering department is sorely in need of more room and it will also provide a permanent office for planning inspector, Wm. West. Engineer Stevenson must have more room and the only thing left for us to do was to take over the Bureau quarters such as we had to."

When Mr. Bryan was asked if the Bureau could occupy the cottage to be vacated by the engineering department when it occupies the Bureau quarters January 1, he stated that the water works department would use the room.

"No Feeling Against Board

"I want you to say for me and other members of the committee that we have no feeling against the Bureau but it was imperative that Engineer Stevenson acquire more room and the only solution we could figure was to take over the Bureau rooms. We even had ground in the hopes of finding temporary quarters for the Bureau," Mr. Bryan said.

"If council insists on putting us out on the street after we have worked so hard to make our offices presentable we will brook the Poor Fund Law. From it we could get money to pay rent for suitable quarters. We have never taken this step as our money has always come from voluntary subscriptions, but if council insists on taking over our rooms I will suggest to the Bureau Board that such a move be taken. The Poor Fund Law is invoked in almost every county in the state except Scioto," Miss Lowe said. "We were assured we could remain in our present quarters until a city building was erected and under this assurance we worked day and night to fix up the place and now almost without warning we must move absolutely and there is no place in sight."

Denies Rumors

City Auditor Chandler today strenuously denied rumors that he was in any way implicated in the move to compel the Bureau to seek new quarters.

"I never heard a word about it until the resolution was passed last night."

"I can verify Mr. Chandler's statement as the first he knew of our intended action is when he was presented with a copy of the resolution last night," Mr. G. Bryan said today. "The finance and public property committees took the action at a joint conference."

Following is the resolution passed by council:

Mr. W. W. Anderson, Chairman, Board of Community Service, My Dear Sir:

The Council of the City of Portsmouth, on the third day of December, 1924, duly adopted the following resolution:

RESOLUTION

Whereas, said Bureau of Community Service have occupied said property with the understanding that the same would be vacated whenever the city should need said property for city purposes; and

Whereas, the city desires to use said property for its Engineering Department.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, STATE OF OHIO, as follows:

SECTION I. That the Clerk of this Council be and he is hereby authorized and directed to notify the Bureau of Community Service to vacate the premises now occupied by said Bureau of Community Service, known as the Newman Building, on or before the first day of January, 1925.

SECTION II. This resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

To Ask Huge Sum For Road Work in Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., December 4.—(By The United Press).—Departing radically from the expressed policies of Governor Donnelly in regard to highway improvements, his state highway department proposes to ask the legislature for $45,522,000 to cover road work for the next two years.

This represents an increase of more than 100 per cent over any such program in history. An expenditure of $20,000,000 for new roads and $25,000,000 for maintenance and repairs, is contemplated.

With such a plan materializing, it would leave only 1,500 miles of unpaved roads on the state system of 10,000 miles.

MRS. SHEATSLEY COMMITTED SUICIDE VERDICT OF CORONER JOSEPH MURPHY

COLUMBUS, O., December 4.—(By the United Press).—Mrs. Addie Sheatsley committed suicide, Coroner Joseph Murphy declared today in his formal report on the Lathernan personage furnace mystery.

The coroner's verdict probably brings investigation of the gruesome case to a definite close.

The report was made in writing to Prosecutor John R. King, who has maintained Mrs. Sheatsley was murdered and her body crumpled into the furnace to hide the crime.

Whether King, in view of the formal verdict of suicide, will attempt to continue the probing (the perplexing mystery, is problematical. The evidence, what little was obtainable, is now all in his hands, but it is very doubtful that it would aid him in solving the mystery even if he was determined to go on with the investigation.

Murphy indicated death resulted from suffocation, pointing out this could have been caused by soot or other irritants in the throat.

Such a condition would have prevented Carbon monoxide gas entering the lungs. The fact that fragments of lung tissue examined by scientists showed no traces of this poisonous gas was accepted by other investigators as evidence that Mrs. Sheatsley had been murdered.

Fever

In fever the pores of the skin are closed. Excess heat is being produced in the body, but is not being carried off in the usual way, by perspiration, because of the closed pores.

Chiropractic adjustments reduce fever in a natural way, by causing the pores of the skin to open, so that the cooling perspiration carries off the excess heat. You can prove this for yourself the next time you "run a fever" with a cold, sore throat, or bilious attack.

A play of springtime love that lived through life's cold winter; a play of emotions; a play of a wife's secrets, things no one but the man and woman know; a play of mysteries, for all of wedlock's secrets are.

You'll be happier for seeing it; wives will know their husbands better; husbands will love their wives more.

Dr. Tisdall, Speaking Before Exchange Club, Tells How to Improve Condition at Pen

Members of the Exchange Club, meeting at the Ardill last night were addressed by Dr. J. J. Tisdall, Columbus, who spoke on the work of establishing a channel for betterment of the physical and intellectual condition of men confined in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

The work of uplifting which Dr. Tisdall is urging is carried on through what he termed the "Intra-Wall Institute." It helps in fact a school or college where the men in the penitentiary who desire may secure an education, and acquire the status, ambition and knowledge that will send them forth when their terms are finished to become substantial citizens of various communities, instead of being condemned to remain forever criminals.

At present there are 301 in the penitentiary enrolled in this school, and 16 have been graduated. The average grade of these 16 was 91 1/2 per cent, while the average for the correspondence school from which they are graduated is 89 per cent.

Dr. Tisdall told of the one-time "Penitentiary Demon" who seemingly took delight in brutally attacking those with whom he came in contact. He became interested in the educational course, and is now regarded as one of the most courteous and considerate men in the place.

Referring to the crime stats in the state, he said 78 of the criminals in the pen are from Cuyahoga county, and attributed this to the fact that only 22 1/2 per cent of the residents of that county are native born Americans. He said one politician had told him that the foreign born in his opinion should have an opportunity to live here just as they did in their native countries in the Old World.

"In my opinion," said Dr. Tisdall, "no one has a right to become an American citizen unless he desires to become an American from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet and to live according to American ideas."

The title house of the penitentiary was depicted by Dr. Tisdall, he saying that it gave every opportunity for the developing and spreading of evil thoughts and ideas, and should be abolished.

Criminals in the penitentiary were placed in three classes, habitual, psychopathic and unintentional. Segregation of the first class and placing of the second class under medical supervision also urged by Dr. Tisdall, who also urged the necessity of taking steps to prevent these classes going out into the world and becoming the fathers of children.

It is the third class, what he termed the international criminals, whom the school in the penitentiary hopes to save.

Dr. Tisdall said an effort would be made to induce the next legislature to appropriate $20,000 to help finance this college within the penitentiary and asked the Exchange Club and all others interested to speak to the representative and senator from this community regarding the matter. The Exchange Club formally went on record at the close of the address favoring the project.

The only other business transacted at the club meeting which was held at the Ardill, was the report on progress of the Christmas Seal campaign. While sales so far have not been as large as anticipated it is hoped that they will take a big jump in the next few days. All who are participating in the campaign are urged to get busy and to finish the canvass of their prospects this week.

Golfers May Use A Lighter Ball

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Robert A. Gardner, vice president of the United States Golf Association, speaking before the Chicago district golf association of which he is president, announced last night that the parent body would adopt a lighter ball at the annual conference January and would stage in the international Walker cup matches every two years instead of annually as at present.

The lighter ball, Gardner said, had been shown by experiment to rise more easily and carry within a few yards of the distance obtained by the present missile. Difficulty in financing yearly trips occasioned the change in the Walker cup competition, he said. Under the new arrangement a United States team will visit England in 1928 and the British players will return here in 1928.

Rich Robes For Gifts
Christmas is not so much a day as a feeling. James Russell Lowell described it as the season when the world, usually hickory-hearted, becomes "all kin" o' smiley round the lips an' teary round the lashes." Take honest sentiment away from Christmas and you might as well take away Christmas itself. As merely the 25th of December it means nothing. Since custom and tradition have set aside the weeks leading up to Christmas as the period for selecting gifts, why not choose them thoughtfully and deliberately with a purpose and a significance in mind, rather than in haste and at random?

Every holiday present, to be sure, is born of motives creditable to the donor. The consideration too many people leave out of their reckoning, however, is what pleasure and usefulness the gift will afford to the recipient.

If he is a man, with a man's inborn love of comfort and his laughable inability to promote his own, no remembrance can well excel that of a smart-looking, well-fitting house robe.

House robes are of two general types. These are the full-length style meant to be worn over pajamas and the three-quarter-length designed to be worn over trousers. The shorter garment is newer and preferred by most men. It looks less clumsy and much smarter than the robe which flaps around one's ankles.

For the material you may choose blanket cloths, camel's hair, flannels, cashmeres, velvets, corduroys, or plain or broadened silks according to whether a heavy or light garment is desired. Either the shawl collar, as pictured in the accompanying sketch, or the notched collar is correct. Lapels, fronts, sleeves and pocket tops may be trimmed with silk cord or faced with brightly contrasting silk or satin to best the kind of fabric they adorn.

A house robe, aside from being appropriate and luxurious, is downright restful. Many men term it their breakfast robe, wearing it habitually for that purpose. A quick change into your coat and you are ready to be off for the office. If you possess but one robe, a dark color is advisable. If you own several—and every man should—the boldest of patterns may be chosen, because, changing off, you are not prone to tire of them.

Several articles of legislation were passed by the city council in regular session Wednesday night, the most important of which were: passage of stringent fire protection measures; authorizing a bond issue of nearly $50,000 to pay the cost of various improvements, including $45,000 for the Scitoville sewer treatment plant; creating position of assistant city solicitor for purpose of collecting delinquent hospital accounts; naming of a Board of Equalization to fix assessments for the Scitoville and Lawson Run sewer districts under the "benefits derived" plan; authorizing N. S. W. to construct safety lights at Eleventh and Gay street crossings; passed ordinance fixing license for dance halls at $25 a year and ordered legislation providing for the widening of Scitoville Trail to conform to new estimate and plans.

The entire membership was present at the busy session over which President Albert Wegner presided and he opened up the proceedings with the result that the big docket was disposed of and the meeting adjourned before eleven o'clock.

On recommendation of the safety department, and as a fire protection measure, the council passed an ordinance prohibiting gasoline pumps and tanks under side walks. The ordinance is not retroactive, and pumps now in use are not affected. The ordinance provides for a penalty of from $1.00 to $200 for conviction of violations.

An ordinance was also passed restricting and regulating the storage and handling of gasoline and other inflammable materials, being in reality a statute combining the various phases of the state fire marshal's code. The penalty provided is from $1 to $100.

An ordinance was also passed establishing fire limits, and restricting the construction of buildings with respect to the elimination of fire hazards. It was explained that the purpose was to eventually prohibit the construction of frame buildings within the fire zone.

Included in the recommendations of the finance committee, which were all adopted, was provision for the issuance of $50,000 worth of bonds for the payment of the city's proportion of certain improvements. The recommendations follow:

The Finance Committee begs to submit the following recommendations:

First—The issuance of City's Proportion Improvement Bonds for $37,641.44 to Eleventh and Gay street crossing, $37,641.44 to Eleventh and Gay street crossing, $37,641.44 to Eleventh and Gay street crossing.

Second—The issuance of City's Proportion Improvement Bonds in the sum of $45,000 to take care of the Scitoville Sewer Treatment Plant.

Third—The Finance Committee begs that the heads of the various city departments bring in estimates of the appropriations that will be required for the first half of the fiscal year at the December 17, meeting of council. The committee further recommends that the city auditor furnish each member of the Finance Committee with a copy of the budget, at the earliest possible time, in order that the committee may be familiar with the budget before the time limit to pass upon the same.

The highest bid for city bonds was made by Stranahan, Harris, and Oatis, for $80,507.09 par value, with accrued interest and premium of $5,935.35, also, their further bid for the $92,059.92, City bonds at par, with accrued interest and $1715 premium. Very respectfully submitted, Emma M. Cramer, R. H. Duvendack, Hospital Up, Again.

The new addition to Hempstead hospital was again before the council, and city solicitor was authorized to appoint an assistant, to serve for a period of six months, at a salary of $75 per month. The work of this assistant, who is to be a lawyer, will be to collect delinquent hospital accounts. The report of the hospital committee follows:

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woe, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I want a little of your wisdom and advice. I am married to a Civil War veteran. I married him for a home and in the hopes that I could draw his pension after his death and live comfortably. In return I was to take care of him as long as he lived. I am keeping up that part of my promise, but I don't think he will last much longer and I hope to tell me that I won't be able to draw his pension after he has passed on. Now Dolly will you please give me the correct information on this subject, as so many different people tell me a different tale that I don't know what to believe. It would be a great blow to me not to be able to get anything after I have lived with that end in view for so many years.

ANXIOUS READER.
As you did not state the year of your marriage, I cannot tell you definitely whether or not you can get a soldier's widow's pension. A law passed a few years ago will prevent pensions being granted to widows of Civil War veterans if their marriage occurred after 1905.

Dear Dolly—I am a very happy young girl. I have a wonderful place to work, and like it, and I have lots of friends in every way. But, Dolly, there is always something to mar the absolute tranquility, and in my case it is my hands. I can just hear you saying as you knit your wise brow, "Silly girl." But, really, it isn't being silly to want pretty hands, now is it, Dolly? The reason they can be much improved is because the skin being very thin and sort of tender, makes them dry, and then the skin gets very wrinkled, and instead of the palms being soft and moist they are dry and hard like I might be working with a street gang instead of in an office.

The wrinkle lotion in your column some time ago and I wonder if that would apply to my case. My hands could be made to look very well, as they are naturally white and very shapely. Dolly, as I read your column from day to day, I notice that many of your readers are not in their natural mood. Some are sad, others are not happy because of an unfortunate husband or wife, others have love worries, etc. Dolly, to all these I would say that no matter how one is situated or how disappointed one may be, we can still look on the bright side of life and be happy of we think right. For the sake of our own good health, we should maintain a happy disposition, as well as for the good of others. Now, someone will think that I am a funny old maid who is trying to pass out free advice, but I assure you I am not. I am just as young as anyone of you, but I am best with a sense of humor and I believe in using it instead of getting the blues. Well, Dolly, if you will give me a good hand lotion I will say ta ta and ta-ta-ta.

HAPPY TYPIST.
The wrinkle lotion you have in mind is not what you need for your hands. Try one made of one ounce of glycerine, two ounces of bay rum, twenty drops of carbolio acid, and enough perfume to kill the odor of the carbolio acid. Rub this lotion into the hands after washing. You will find that it softens them in no time and will keep them white and smooth. You can buy very good hand lotions in the local drug stores about as cheap as you can make them.

Dear Dolly—We are two flaming beauties. We are called "baby dolls" and "jazz babies" by all our friends, but, Dolly, in spite of our popularity we find ourselves without regular steady. Now, Dolly, can you tell us why? We have callers occasionally, but never a steady. We are splendid dancers and they never seem to tire of swinging us around if we go to the dances by ourselves, but they never ask to take us to a dance and never want to take us home. Now we fail to understand an arrangement like that, can you? Dolly, I should think they would be fighting over us all the time, don't you? Beautiful girls—splendid dancers—oh, what a combination! Can you beat it?

JAZZ BABIES.
What man would be satisfied with a "jazz baby" or a "baby doll" for the time being, but she would have no lasting charm. You must be interesting if you expect to attract a worthwhile man. Then, too, you must not make yourself so common as to attend public dances or any other dances without an escort. Men don't like to be seen in public with street walkers and girls who let anyone "swing 'em around." Beauty and ability to dance well will only give you empty pleasure. The things worth having in life are earned by sweetness, character and right living.

Miss Wise—Will you please run this in your paper for I am trusting that it may be the cause of a reconciliation.
LAY.—Am sorry for all the trouble and have forgiven you. Will you please forgive me as you are forgiven, and return to start as we did several years ago. Will make the sacrifice, give up all relatives and friends. Please call me or communicate through lawyer.

The Ketchum Auxiliary of the Second Presbyterian church will meet next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Patton, 1345 Hutchins street. The assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Walter Phelps, Mrs. Carlos Pyles, Mrs. W. E. Ramey and Mrs. Paul Revare.

Beginning at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, the members of the Mizpah Class of the Central Presbyterian church will hold a bake sale in Johnson Bros. garage on Gallia street. Home-made baked goods and home-made fancy articles will be on sale at this time and the patronage of the public is solicited.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Wendelken will entertain the members of the King's Daughters and Sons of Trinity Church tomorrow evening at their home, 1309 Highland avenue. PHYSICIAN DENIES

HE KILLED WIFE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 4.—While arrangements were being made to take Dr. George T. Edwards to Montgomery to attend the funeral tomorrow of his wife, Annie Lou Edwards, authorities were tonight denying charges that he had killed her. The charges were made by a woman who claimed to be connected with the death of the woman.

Dr. Edwards, charged with murder in a coroner's warrant in connection with the case, is still suffering much pain from a wound in the left hand which, he said, was inflicted by an assailant who he asserted murdered his wife and then attacked him in the Edwards' home at Fairfield early yesterday.

After a conference with George Ross, his attorney, it was stated that Dr. Edwards would have no further statement to make.

According to officers in charge of the inquiry, the physician had adhered to his original statement concerning the attack upon his wife and him and vigorously denied accusations by the service of the warrant.

Officers said they had discovered evidence tending to show that a fourth shot was fired in the Edwards' home. Deputies previously quoted the physician as saying that he fired three shots at his alleged assailant after the latter had fired upon him once.

Deputies said Dr. Edwards' pistol had been fired three times and is being held as evidence.

Every inch of space in and about the Edwards' suburban home was being searched for additional clues and inquiries made at drug stores in an effort to identify the source of two bottles containing an anesthetic which were found in the home.

X-RAY MAY PREVENT GUN EXPLOSIONS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Development of the X-ray to point where it will render impossible the explosions of the big guns such as have resulted in large loss of life in recent years, was predicted today at the national defense forum of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers convened here at which Dwight F. Davis, assistant secretary of war, and several army officers outlined the war department's plans for national preparedness.

To prevent the acceptance of unsound metal in the construction of big guns, a 250,000 volt x-ray equipment has been installed at the Watertown, Mass., arsenal. Col. T. C. Dickson, told the delegates. The machine, he said, had as an instrument of inspection. He said that from the x-ray films of steel castings the location and cause of defects could be determined without necessity of cutting up the castings.

Mr. Davis reminded the engineers that in the next war the burdens would be equally distributed on all classes and professions and warned that there would be "no slackers and no profiteers."

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Inez Hardin, flat-footed 16 year old girl, of Marigold, Miss., with a score of 99.4, today was picked as the healthiest girl in America at the International Livestock Exhibition.

Coe Evers Jr., 37, of Prattville, Ellendale county, Mich., with a pimple, a discolored tooth and a coated tongue, was picked as the healthiest boy. He also had a score of 99.4, losing the fractional points on account of the slight corruption, the discoloration and the coated tongue.

Inez was declared perfect except for flat feet, which deducted four tenths of a point from her score, and a slight swelling of the thyroid gland.

"Dry" Marshal Drew Higher Salary Than The Governor

COLUMBUS, O., December 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Sixteen thousand dollars a year was the approximate compensation paid A. W. Heckler, deputy marshal in charge of the "figure" court at Glendale, Cuyahoga county, conducted by Mayor George Lin.

This startling revelation is made in a report of an examination of the village offices filed today in the state bureau of accounting by State Examiner David L. Rupert.

The salary outlays that received by Governor Donahoe or the president of the Ohio State, Miami or Ohio Universities, is represented percentages of fines and fees in liquor cases.

Deputy Marshal Heckler served from July 1, 1922, to December 31, 1923, and during that eighteen months period he was paid a total of approximately $24,000, the state examiner's report shows. Of this total, however, only about $6,000 was paid for his services. Of the other $18,000 approximately $6,000 must be returned to the village while more than $12,000 though paid legally, is held not to be subject to recovery.

The exact amount charged against Mr. Heckler for recovery was $5,977.16 and the exact amount listed as having been paid to him legally is $12,008.35. Findings for recovery totaling eleven hundred dollars also were listed against several other deputy marshals working under Heckler. W. H. Keiper, who served some time as deputy marshal and later was elected marshal and succeeded Heckler as head of the "Booze Squad" is held to have drawn $390.41 illegally, but which he is not asked to refund. Findings for several hundred dollars also were returned against him against Keiper.

Mayor Lin also came in for censure and findings for recovery totaling approximately $7,200 were made against him, all of which he has paid.

The total findings for recovery made against Mayor Lin, Deputy Marshal Heckler and others aggregated $14,163.30, of which $7,813.08 have been paid. The total illegal payments aggregated with the $12,008.35 charged against Deputy Marshal Heckler, $15,572.47.

PERIOD OF UNEXAMPLED PROSPERITY IS REALITY

COLUMBUS, O., December 4.—(By the United Press)—A "period of unexampled prosperity," shared among all classes, is the report of E. E. Scott, superintendent of banks of Ohio, declared today.

Banks under state supervision are stronger than ever before, the report said. The report was based on the state bank call of October 10, and the department concludes it is the "finest in the history of the division."

Resources and deposits are shown to set new records; holdings of government bonds and other securities substantially increased; liabilities of banks have been materially reduced; bank reserves are stronger and loans for real estate and other business enterprises appreciably enlarged.

The combined capital of the 747 banks reporting October 10, was $112,251,180, an increase of $2,785,000 since June 30, and an increase of nearly $9,000,000 in one year.

Russia Joins "Wet" Nations of the World

MOSCOW, December 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Soviet Russia today joined the "wet" countries of Europe when the council of peoples commissars issued a decree permitting the manufacture and sale of liquors and cognac to a strength of 30 per cent which is but five per cent less than the pre-war alcoholic standard.

The new decree which caused much joy among the inn keepers and liquor advocates throughout Russia, is intended to increase the government's revenues and stop the illicit sale of alcohol which has been widespread.

REVOKED 10 CHARTERS OF HARD COAL MINERS

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 4.—Charters of 10 joints in the United Mine Workers of America in the Pittston district were revoked today by the district board of the miners' union here.

Failure of 12,000 striking miners to obey the order of International President John L. Lewis to return to work was the reason assigned for the revocation. The action means that the strikers are no longer members of the miners union.

Wheelerburg Opens Season With McDermott Team; Hall Brother Are Declared Eligible

Yesterday night the Wheelerburg high school basketball boys will play their first game of the season with McDermott's quintet, the game to be played at Wheelerburg.

Superintendent A. B. Prior, of W. H. S., received word this morning from the secretary of the Board of Control of the Ohio High School Athletic Association that the Hall brothers, star forwards at South Webster last year, and now students at Wheelerburg, were eligible to perform with Wheelerburg. A previous report was that they were ineligible. The secretary sent word that only two members of a board of seven had voted on the matter and that as no formal protest had been made to go ahead and play the boys. The matter was placed before the board by Superintendent Prior when he wrote recently asking about the right of the boys to play. Block, who has been attending Portsmouth high school, and who has returned to Wheelerburg, is also entitled to play according to word from the secretary of the association, no protest having been entered in his case. It is possible that Block will be kept out of the W. H. S. line-up until after the first of the year or start of the new semester in order to prevent the possibility of a protest.

WHY SUFFER FROM BRONCHIAL ASTHMA?

Simple Home Treatment Makes Breathing Easy.

Just because you start the day tired, feeble, worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of miserable Asthma—do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple treatment known as Oxidase, the prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, the healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night, and who get up at noon, clear breath will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidase gives.

Oxidase is a tablet made from essential oils, which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the chest, and gives the patient a comfortable night's sleep.

It is said by leading druggists, including Warriner, and Fisher & Steele, who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidase a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.

PLEADS FOR CHURCHES TO UNITE IN EFFORT TO ABOLISH WARFARE

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 4.—A plea for the churches of the world to unite and abolish war was made by Sir Willoughby, London, former member of parliament today at the opening session of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ quadriennial meeting here.

Sir Willoughby's address was the feature of the session which otherwise was marked by greetings from representatives of churches in Japan, South America, Germany, and Europe in general. Approximately 500 official delegates, representing 25 Protestant denominations, were present for the first meeting of the council in the south.

In opening his address Sir Willoughby, who appeared as the representative of the World Alliance of International Friendship, through the churches, declared it was not his belief that America was "holding herself aloof from Europe."

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to make it, and you have the best cough remedy.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. The plan is so simple, cheap, and the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add pain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

GOV. SMITH MOVES TO CHAMP HILLMAN'S PLANS FOR THIRD TERM REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Investigation of New York City's transit muddle will proceed under the direction of Supreme Court Justice McAvoy as Governor Smith originally intended it, the governor informed Mayor John F. Hylan late today.

Both Republican and Democratic party leaders looked upon the governor's letter as a signal for intense political warfare looking to the defeat of Mr. Hylan in his aspirations for a third Democratic mayoralty nomination with Tammany backing.

Recent events point to an alliance between William Randolph Hearst, U. S. Senator Royal S. Copeland and the mayor, an alliance, which under certain circumstances would seek to wrest the city and state Democratic party control from Governor Smith and Tammany leaders.

WAY SOUGHT TO RAISE PAY IN POSTAL SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A net loss of nearly $40,000,000 was sustained by the government in 1923 in operation of the postal service. It was shown in an expert analysis submitted to the senate today, by Postmaster General New.

The report, filed in compliance with a Senate resolution, and designed for use in connection with the bill proposing general increases in salaries of postal employees found that only first class mail and postal savings were operated at a profit.

With friends of the salary-increase bill, voted at the last session of congress by President Coolidge expressing confidence that it would be re-enacted, the cost study submitted today was seen as necessitating a revision of postal rates sufficient to bring in $100,000,000 additional revenue. As now drawn the bill provides an average increase of $300 a year to each of the 200,000 employees with a total added expenditure of more than $60,000,000.

Estimates of the extent of the rate changes to be proposed were not attempted by any of the interested senators but they indicated that the recommendations made by Postmaster General New last April probably would be followed to a degree.

The department of industrial relations, in its request for $1,950,270, seeks an increase of $301,830 over its previous budget for the two year period of $1,648,440.

Construction of new buildings and repairs at state institutions, deemed necessary by the supervisors, will cost $7,537,463, according to the budgetary estimate, forming the major portion of the requested increase.

ATTEMPT MADE TO DISCHARGE JURY IN FORBES-THOMPSON TRIAL; HARDING'S SISTER'S NAME MENTIONED

FEDERAL COURT ROOM, CHILLICOthe, December 4.—(By the United Press)—An unsuccessful attempt to discharge the jury in the Forbes-Thompson fraud trial and throw all the evidence out so far presented was made today by James S. Easby-Smith, attorney for the defense.

Easby-Smith objected to an "improper" statement made by John W. H. Crim, assistant attorney general, and declared that the supreme court of the United States would "throw out the whole case" because of Crim's statement.

Crim, while questioning Elias H. Mortimer, Star government witness, in an attempt to prove a conspiracy between Colonel Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson to defraud the government, made a positive assertion that Forbes, James W. Black, business partner of Thompson, and Charles Hunter, a Pacific Coast contractor, "were scared out of San Francisco and went up to Portland and Oregon to discuss their fraudulent contracts."

Demand Jury Be Discharged
Easby-Smith was on his feet instantly.

"Your Honor, I object most strenuously to the statement just made by counsel for the government," he shouted.

"I move your honor that the court withdraw a juror and continue its case."

Judge George A. Carpenter ruled Crim's statement stricken from the record and cautioned the jury that it was improper and should not be considered as evidence. The court refused, however, to withdraw a juror and continue the case.

Withdrawal of one juror is a technical form for discharging a jury and does not end all evidence presented in the case to that date. A new jury must then be called and all the evidence presented again. Today's session of court was replete with bitter arguments between opposing counsel.

Harding's Sister's Name Brought In
CHILLICOthe, December 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The name of Mrs. Carolyn Votaw, sister of the late President Harding, was brought momentarily into the federal court trial today of Colonel Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson for conspiracy to defraud the government.

A letter identified by Elias H. Mortimer, the chief government witness as having been received by himself at San Francisco from Thompson, was read to the jury over strenuous objections of defense counsel who declared "it would drag scandal into this case."

After reading the letter, Judge George A. Carpenter declared it was in itself innocent of scandal. Mortimer, just before the letter was read, started to relate a conversation between himself, Thompson and Forbes, which dealt with keeping the proposed Pacific coast trip of Forbes, Mortimer and others a secret from Mrs. Votaw when Judge Carpenter halted him.

The letter said Thompson had gone riding with Mr. and Mrs. Huber Votaw, and that she seemed curious about the whereabouts of Colonel Forbes. The letter then gave detailed instructions to Mortimer about the story he should connect to account for the western trip of the Mortimers, to make the trip seem to have been to Minneapolis on a visit to Mortimer's family.

"Be guided by above," the letter closed, signed by J. W. Thompson's initials.

New Way to Quickly Stop Worst Cough
A remarkable new and simple method for treating a cough gives relief with the first dose and usually breaks a severe cough in 24 hours.

The treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. People have been astonished how quickly the coughing stopped with this new treatment, and the whole cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough, for children as well as grownups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

G. O. P. NEW GUARD FUNCTIONING WITH THE WHITE HOUSE IN LEGISLATION

(By PAUL R. MALLON)

WASHINGTON, December 4.—(By the United Press)—The Republican "new guard" of the senate, under the fresh leadership of Senator Curtis, is functioning in close co-operation with the White House to avert the difficulties of the last session and adopt speedily all possible constructive legislation.

General Curtis, the Independents are threatening trouble, the new regime is working out with the White House an effective plan for adoption of a Muscle Shoals bill and the postal salaries increase bill.—The question upon which there is much discord and which cannot become laws unless a compromise with the White House views is reached.

Instead of going ahead on these measures in their own way, as was the custom at the last session, their supporters have sought suggestions of the executive on each, with the result that the postal salaries increase measure is now being prepared on a basis that will assure its final enactment. An arrangement for disposition of Muscle Shoals also is being worked out.

TEACHERS TO AID TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC
Teachers of Scioto County are being asked to submit to the nurses organizing the tuberculosis clinic a list of names of children who, by reason of loss of weight and poor school attendance, are suspected of having tuberculosis. It may not be possible to have all these children examined but at least a representative number can be accommodated, say Health Commissioners Dr. R. W. De Crow and O. D. Tuttle. All children who come from homes where some member of the family has tuberculosis should be examined frequently, as in this way the physician is able to arrest the disease early with little chance of its recurrence.

Bureau Is Flooded With Offers To Help Family

Portsmouth hearts are warm and generous, particularly so as the Christmas season nears. Yesterday the Times published the story of a family of five children who are cold, hungry and uncared for while their mother works.

Today the Bureau of Community Service has been flooded with offers to help conditions in that home. Money and real honest hard work have been offered. One woman came to the Bureau and said if they would furnish her with soap and clothes she would clean the house. Another has offered to take care of the baby each day while the mother works. A man telephoned that he would buy clothes for the children if the Bureau workers would select suitable ones. A mother offered to cook a meal for the little folks. A business house contributed two new comforts. A family sent a baby bed. More than a dozen blankets and comforts were offered and Bureau workers are confident that the family's immediate needs have been supplied.

Musical Comedy Here Dec. 16

Members of the B'nai B'rith Thursday turned their attention to plans for their next attraction, "Little Jessie James," which they will bring to Portsmouth for one night only, December 10.

It is not often that local theatregoers are given the most welcome opportunity of enjoying a smart comedy presented in precisely the same sumptuous manner on tour, as it was in New York City, Chicago and Boston. However, when L. Lawrence Weber's musical comedy hit "Little Jessie James" comes to the high school December 10, playgoers will see this splendid attraction given exactly the same elaborate presentation that made it the outstanding success during its year's run in the metropolises last season.

Schuler Dismissed
Robert Schuler, former Kardon merchant, arrested at the home of his parents in Cincinnati by Sheriff Harry Dunham and brought here today to answer to a charge of kidnapping of a minor son, was dismissed by Judge Sprague in Municipal court because of an order issued by the Common Pleas court awarding the custody of the child to the defendant's former wife, Mrs. M. Schuler of Kardon and charging her with support of the boy at the time of granting her a decree of divorce.

The order of the higher court was viewed by Judge Sprague as a bar to further prosecution of Schuler for non-support of the child, and dismissed the complaint.

Habeas Corpus proceedings to secure Schuler's release were filed in Common Pleas court early today by Attorneys Garver of Union and P. Kimble but the suit was dismissed following the action of Judge Sprague.

Mortimer Testifies Forbes Agreed To Accept $50,000 Each Contract Awarded

FEDERAL COURT ROOM, CINCINNATI, December 4.—(By United Press.)—Colonel Charles W. Forbes, wide head of the United States Veterans Bureau, agreed to accept $50,000 each for three government hospital contracts to be given to the Hurley-Mason company on the Pacific coast.

Colonel Forbes, who is now in Cincinnati, testified today in the Forbes-Thompson fraud trial.

Mortimer testified concerning a conversation he said he overheard between Forbes and Charles B. Hurley, head of the contracting firm.

Hurley, the witness said, asked Forbes for the contracts to build the veterans' hospitals at Livermore, Cal., American Lake, Washington, and St. Cloud, Minnesota. He offered to pay Forbes $50,000 for each contract, the witness charged.

The driver of the machine, who gave his name as Daniel Beverly, 1038 Neil avenue, Columbus, took Mr. McFarland to Hempstead hospital, where the injury was attended. Later he was able to go to his home. The wagon was damaged when it was knocked to one side of the road.

ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FEDERATED CHURCHES
ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 4.—(By Associated Press.)—Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn, N. Y., today was elected president of the Federal Council of Churches, succeeding Dr. Robert E. Speer, of the same city, who was not eligible for re-election.

Dr. Livingston D. Lloyd, New York, was re-elected recording secretary. Frank H. Mann, New York, president of the Union Mortgage company was elected treasurer, succeeding Alfred R. Kimball, also of New York, who requested that he be retired.

Monday noon, Dec. 15th, will positively end Dr. Frederick Blankner's visit in Portsmouth.

Last April Dr. Blankner came to Portsmouth in response to many requests for a visit from people who were exceedingly anxious to obtain his services. At that time he only intended to remain one week and remained until the latter part of June when he took his vacation, but many expected a promise that he would return which he did in September and ever since he has extended his visit from week to week and no positively announces that Monday, Dec. 15th will positively close his visit here. Many people are coming from Hamilton, W. Va., just because every one that has come, goes back with a word of praise for his services. The same way with Ironton, Jackson, Waverly, Wellston and from the hills of old Kentucky. You can see by this that Dr. Blankner has built up his reputation by giving actual service.

In the matter of treating complicated chronic diseases, gonorrhea, rheumatism, nasal catarrh, eczema, ulcers of the legs and many other subsidiary chronic ailments, Dr. Blankner has thirty six years of active experience, common sense, and mature judgment to offer as a guarantee, for his services and no one can offer more. His success has been constant and progressive. He makes no claims that are not substantiated by the most experienced and authoritative men in the medical profession, and if you are afflicted and wish to act wisely you surely will not hesitate to make a Little Journey to room No. 7 Manhattan Hotel, which the opportunity is all yours. Dr. Blankner is not here to fool you, but you can fool yourself out of the greatest opportunity you have ever had.

Mrs. Thelma Adkins, No. 1650 Charles St., Portsmouth, made the journey Nov. 15th, whose health was failing rapidly, undermined from disordered and ulcerated teeth. What happened — why she sat down in an easy gas as you please rocking chair and without the use of chloroform, ether, gas, somniform, eucaim, novocaine or the so called black system and in a few moments had thirty two teeth extracted. She got up out of the chair with a smile and told God bless you Doctor. Never suffered a moment's inconvenience or pain afterward. Guess you will quickly and has made a decided improvement in her health. If you wish teeth extracted without pain, by an expert with the very possible results then room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel is the place and no where on earth can you go and find anyone that will excel the work and service. Hundreds of references could be given and hundreds of references have from time to time been given in this paper as to the character of the work that Dr. Blankner accomplishes in the treatment of diseases and extracting teeth without pain and it would be useless to add more. Time right now, place room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel, until Monday next, Dec. 15th. Office hrs. 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. Sunday, 9 to 12 M. Phone service. — Advertisement.

CORRIGAN

by EDMUND SNELL

"Fellows," shouted Corrigan suddenly from the veranda rail, "bring me those binoculars, will you?"

"The first assistant, lean, spare and hatchet-faced, left the man he had been studying intently, and went over to where a dead table stood in a corner by the wall.

"Right hand drawer, isn't it?" he demanded.

"That's the ticket, quick, old son. There's something here I don't quite understand."

The proprietor of the Orange-Putell estate was gazing intently through a conventional lense, purposely left by the rubber trees to where, at the foot of the slope, two white-clad forms were checking a heap of trunks. The morning train had just arrived. A tall Sikh watchman, resplendent in the inevitable turban and red piping, was shaking something to a quavering whose cooing were laboriously wedding. A couple of nude children and a bent old native who had nothing better to do, were regarding the newcomers with intense interest.

Fellows handed over the binoculars. Corrigan focused them swiftly and carefully.

"It's a woman," declared the assistant, who was possessed of long sight.

Corrigan discarded the glasses with evident disgust.

"Damn!" he said loudly.

"She's damned good looking," pursued the fellow, leaving the proprietor's remark. "Nicely turned out, too. Seems to know her way about. Don't much care for the look of the chap who's with her. Watchman Number Two looks mighty impressed. By God! She must speak the lingo like a native."

"You don't happen to notice the name she's got sewn on her petticoats, at that distance?" growled Corrigan sarcastically.

Fellows primed amiably.

"What's wrong?" he inquired, coming round to face the other.

The great Corrigan folded his arms.

"Wrong? Why, the place'll be swarming with women before we know where we are! I didn't bargain for this. I can give you my word. When they rent me his pedigree from Singapore, I thought we were on a good thing. The agents assured me we could have a better man to replace young White while the navy's away. I hinted that, with the riff-raff that's pouring out east just now, we'd be able to look around and see if we couldn't squeeze him in as a permanent."

Fellows whistled.

"And you hadn't a notion he was married?"

"Good Lord, no! It's upset all my calculations. The shack I set apart for this new chap can hardly be located upon my married quarters. You know what women are. Mrs. White won't thank me, on her return, if she finds I've allowed a strange man to occupy their place."

Fellows gazed over his shoulder toward the uninvited intruder, who by this time, was already half-way up the slope, the man following a couple of yards behind.

"She can have my place," he jerked out suddenly.

Corrigan started as if he had been stung.

"My poor old idiot!" he cried compassionately. "You can't be well!"

"I'll solve the problem, at any rate."

Corrigan thought. Presently he stuck his hands deep in his pockets and frowned.

"All right. If you're fool enough to turn out for them—so be it. But, you can take it from me, that young man's in for a pretty warm quarter of an hour when I get him alone, and I'll favor those damned agents with a piece of my mind at the same time."

"Suppose it is a bit chick," agreed Fellows. "After all, our jolly little island's no place for women-folk. Wonder if she plays tennis?"

He surveyed himself in a cracked mirror which hung on the wall. A wealth of fine bristles reminded him rather forcibly that he had omitted to shave that morning. He wore no turban and a somewhat weathered, crinkled shirt, the sleeves rolled up to the elbows, exposed a gauze singlet of which the top button was missing. His khaki slacks had shrunk so that their lower extremities exposed above his brown canvas boots, quite a noticeable amount of dark hair, such that was guileless of coquetry.

Corrigan watched him with an amused smile.

"I won't offer to oblige you with a change of dress," he said. "Your somewhat unimpressive appearance may have the desired effect. Shall I think she's fallen in with a crowd of friends—and decide to take the next boat home?"

"Good morning!" A voice like the tinkling of a bell came from the foot of the short flight of wooden steps.

"Good morning," echoed Corrigan. "Come in out of the sun. Morning, Patterson. I suppose you are Patterson?"

"That's my name," replied a tall,

they sent you their saluams."

"Thanks. Been out east very long. Miss Patterson?"

"Oh, no!" she turned to her brother who was leaning against the rail, talking to Fellows. "How long have I been out here, today?"

"A couple of months, more or less."

"Yes, that's all. You know, I simply adore the tropics. I feel as if I've been out here all my life!"

"Ah!" commented Corrigan, getting to his feet. "Mr. Patterson has kindly put his baggage at your disposal and has decided to migrate to the one I had intended for your brother."

"I say," protested Patterson. "That's awfully good of you, and all that, but we really can't hear of your turning out, can we, Miss?"

"You should say not, indeed. Can't we manage to fit in somehow?"

Before Fellows could reply, Corrigan broke in rather abruptly.

"Sort it out among yourselves, Mr. Patterson. I take you cross there now. I'll get the men to follow with your baggage, Patterson, as soon as you get settled down, run across and see me. I want to have a few words with you. Say between four and five. Good morning, Miss Patterson. I shall be seeing something of you, of course. You're only a couple of miles from me. Cherry-on everybody!"

He watched them start along the winding path, which led over the hills to the house of the first assistant. He stayed at the opening, between the blue sun blinds until they were lost to sight round a bend in the road, then turned suddenly and dropped into the chair Miss Patterson had vacated. As he reached for the cigarist, Fellows plunged back up the slope.

"Left my damn map," he explained breathlessly. He folded the thing carefully and stuck it in a trouser pocket. He paused for a second in front of Corrigan.

"Well, what'd you think of her? Not bad, what?"

Corrigan snorted.

"I'll give you my opinion of that lady—later on."

"I hope you'll be better soon," returned Fellows maliciously, and ran down the steps, ducking to avoid the book Corrigan slung after him.

"The strange thing is," mused the painter to himself from the depths of his long chair, "that I never remember her meeting a chartered accountant whose name was Davis, and I've not yet discovered the pretty woman who could completely master the Malay language in two months!"

On a certain evening, as a fiery sun descended below the topmost tips of the waving rubber trees, the first assistant sat, as was his wont, on the steps of his veranda, sundown—the blissful moment of the weary, sweet, lulling day when, by the laws of the island, he was permitted to put in an appearance. Patterson had not yet returned from his side of the vast Kabun. End was presumably including in a secluded siesta, and Fellows was engaged in a grim struggle with what he imagined to be his latest son.

"IT'S A WOMAN," DECLARED THE ASSISTANT.

"Davis," repeated Corrigan thoughtfully. "Davis? Pretty usual name, isn't it? Miss Patterson, what was her name? Accountant of some sort or other?"

"Yes," said the girl very positively. "A chartered accountant. They're frightfully nice people, you know. He's doing awfully well. Of course,

MRS. SHEATSLY'S DEATH REHEARSED

COLUMBUS, Dec. 4.—In the back room of a Columbus hardware store authorities this afternoon performed experiments with a woman whose name was withheld, designed to determine whether Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, whose death is a perplexing mystery, could have ended her own life by crawling into the Lutheran parsonage furnace where her charred remains were found.

The net result of the experiment was conclusive evidence that a woman of Mrs. Sheatsley's size could easily have crept through the 14 inch square door into the fire box.

The woman with whom the tests were made succeeded in entering the furnace, in which there was no fire, of course, unaided. The furnace was identical with the one in which Mrs. Sheatsley's remains were found.

Then, as a test of the theory that Mrs. Sheatsley may have been crumpled into the fire box after her death from some other cause, the woman was asked to make her body limp and a strong man succeeded in pushing her through the furnace door.

The experiments, performed at the suggestion of Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, the furnace victim's husband, failed to prove, as Prosecutor King believed they would, that it would have been physically impossible for Mrs. Sheatsley to have entered the furnace alone.

SENATE WILL STUDY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The senate passed today in its consideration of the Muscle Shoals problem to give President Coolidge and the senators an opportunity to study the new plan of Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama.

When the subject was called up in the senate at 2 o'clock, it was agreed to carry it over until tomorrow. The senate was afterwards taken instead of adjournment, leaving the issue in its favored position on the senate calendar.

No move toward settlement of the Muscle Shoals question is expected by congressional leaders until the President expresses his attitude on the Underwood proposal.

The bill was taken to the White House early today by Senator Curtis, the Republican leader, and Senators

McKinley, Illinois, and Pepper, Pennsylvania, Republicans.

The President referred the matter to the war department for a report from military experts, and he is expected to make an early announcement of his attitude on it to clarify the situation in the senate. Some consideration has already been given the bill by the President. Senator Underwood conferred with him several times while he was preparing it.

Leaders of the various senate factions interested in Muscle Shoals expressed the opinion today that the Underwood bill carried out the idea of President Coolidge on Muscle Shoals as expressed in his annual message read today to congress. They believe that if approved by the President, it will stand a good chance of passage.
